Response to Amendment

The Amendment filed August 13, 2001 (Paper No. 10) in response to the Office Action of March 13, 2001 is acknowledged and has been entered. Claim 3 was cancelled. Claim 23 was added. Claims 1-2, 4-6, and 23 are currently under consideration.

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office Action.

Oath/Declaration

The oath or declaration is no longer defective since it has been signed by the inventor via Paper No. 11.

Rejections Maintained

Claims 1-2, 4-6 remain rejected and new claim 23 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Caras (WO 96/13518, May 1996) in view of Wang et al. (Cell. Vol. 93, pages 741-753, May 29, 1998, IDS) for the reasons of record in Paper No. 8, pages 3-4.

Applicant argues (Paper No. 10, page 3) that there was nothing in the art cited which would have suggested that an antagonist which binds and EphB receptor could inhibit angiogenesis in a mammal. Applicants further argue that the references failed to demonstrate the role of an EphB receptor, such as EphB4 receptor, in angiogenesis and did not describe an antagonist which bound an EphB receptor or use of such an antagonist to inhibit angiogenesis. These arguments have considered but are not found persuasive. The reference of Wang et al. clearly demonstrated the role of an EphB receptor, such as EphB4 in angiogenesis as recited in Paper No. 8, page 4. Also, Applicant has essentially argued and discussed the references individually without clearly addressing the combined teachings. It must be remembered that the references are relied upon in combination and are not meant to be considered separately as in a vacuum. It is the combination of all of the cited and relied upon references which made up the state of the art with regard to the claimed invention. Applicant's claimed invention fails to patentably distinguish over the state of the art represented by the cited references taken in combination. In re Young, 403 F.2d 754, 159 USPQ 725 (CCPA 1968); In re Keller 642 F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981). Furthermore, the test for obviousness is not whether the features of a secondary reference may be bodily incorporated into the structure of the primary reference and it is not that the claimed invention must be expressly suggested in any one or all of the references; but rather the test is what the combined teachings of the references would have suggested to those of ordinary skill in the art. In re Keller, 642 F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981).

All other rejections are withdrawn in view of applicants amendments.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
